EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

Did You Know?

The earliest annual parish report was recorded in 1920. Twelve Couples were united in the sacrament of matrimony. There were no mixed marriages. In those days a mixed marriage did not refer to a marriage between a Catholic and a non-Catholic. Mixed marriages then referred to those between couples of different ethnic backgrounds, such as a Pole marrying a German.

¿Sabías Qué?

El primer informe anual de la parroquia se registró en 1920. Doce parejas fueron unidos en el sacramento del matrimonio. No hubo matrimonios mixtos. En esos tiempos un matrimonio mixto no se refería a un matrimonio entre un católico y un no católico. Los matrimonios mixtos se referían entonces a aquellos entre parejas de diferentes orígenes étnicos, como un polaco que se casa con un alemán..

DEACON'S CORNER

The beginning of the new year is often the time people decide to reform their lives and make resolutions to lose weight, exercise more, etc. This is, of course, a good thing to do, but usually we find that in a short time, we have failed to make much progress in keeping them. Perhaps we are starting in the wrong place. There is one resolution that we should make and keep every year, and that is to improve our relationship with God.

Consider how a tree grows...you have the roots, trunk, limbs, branches, and leaves. The trunk of the tree is the center of its life. It provides support for the branches and leaves. Nutrients and water collected by the roots pass through the trunk to the branches and leaves. The food produced by the leaves is then passed back down through the trunk to feed the roots. Each year as the tree grows more roots and branches and leaves, the trunk also needs to grow.

Our relationship with God is like the trunk of the tree. It's the foundation of our life. For our life to flourish we can't neglect the foundation. It must keep growing each year to keep our lives in balance and well structured. When we find our lives troubled with broken relationships, addictive behavior, unhappiness, anger and hurt, we should look to the foundation. Perhaps we have been neglecting it and it needs some work.

Why not make your first New Year's resolution to grow that relationship with God, every year? If you keep that resolution, over time you might just find it easier to keep all the others.

Blessings and peace, Deacon Steve

RINCÓN DEL DIÁCONO

El comienzo del nuevo año es a menudo el momento en que las personas deciden reformar sus vidas y hacer propósitos para bajar de peso, hacer más ejercicio, etc. Esto es, por supuesto, algo bueno que se puede hacer, pero normalmente encontramos en poco tiempo, no hemos logrado mucho progreso en mantenerlos.. Quizás estemos empezando en mal lugar. Hay una resolución que debemos tomar y mantener todos los años, y es mejorar nuestra relación con Dios.

Considere cómo crece un árbol ... tiene las raíces, el tronco, las ramas, y las hojas. El tronco del árbol es el centro de su vida. Proporciona soporte a las ramas y hojas. Los nutrientes y el agua recolectados por las raíces pasan por el tronco hasta las ramas y hojas. Luego se pasa la comida producida por las hojas hacia abajo a través del tronco para alimentar las raíces. Cada año a medida que el árbol crece más raíces y ramas y hojas, el tronco también necesita crecer.

Nuestra relación con Dios es como el tronco de un árbol. Es la base de nuestra vida. Para que nuestra vida florezca no puedo descuidar la base. Debe seguir creciendo cada año para mantener nuestras vidas en equilibrio y bien estructuradas. Cuando encontramos que nuestras vidas están perturbadas por relaciones rotas, comportamiento adictivo, infelicidad, ira y dolor, deberíamos mirar a la base. Quizás lo hemos estado descuidando y necesita algo de trabajo.

¿Por qué no hacer que su primera resolución de Año Nuevo sea crecer esa relación con Dios, todos los años? Si te quedas con esta resolución, con el tiempo es posible que te resulte más fácil conservar todos los demás.

Bendiciones y paz, diácono Steve
