DEACON'S CORNER

Our Father who art in heaven...

The Lord's prayer is prayed in most all our liturgies; not just in the mass and the rosary, but from baptisms to funerals, we always make it a point to share these words when praying together. I was therefore surprised when someone pointed out to me recently something that I had never noticed before. (Not surprised by what was pointed out, but that I had never noticed it.) The prayer is plural throughout. Not "My Father", but "Our Father". I mean, I always wanted my daily bread, but never noticed that I was also asking for others to get their daily bread. And, of course, I wanted my trespasses forgiven, but other's trespasses? (I mean some of those people were trespassing against me!)

It's important to remember that Jesus is teaching with this prayer. We have it because the disciples asked him to teach them how to pray. And in doing so he is making it clear that we are to pray for each other, not just for ourselves. He is teaching us to pray for others well being and forgiveness even has we pray for our own.

This is also a very ecumenical prayer. Not only would any protestant or non-denominational church member be quite willing to say this prayer, but even Jews or Muslims would find nothing objectionable in these words. How perfect it is that the prayer Jesus has taught us can be shared by all, said by all for the benefit of all and can help to bring us all together.

No wonder we use it so often.

Blessings and peace, Deacon Steve

Our Father,

Who art in heaven,
hallowed be Thy Name.

Thy Kingdom come.
Thy will be done on earth,
as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.

And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.

For Thine is the kingdom,
the power, and the glory,
forever and ever.

Amen

RINCÓN DEL DIÁCONO

Padre nuestro que están en el cielo...

El Padrenuestro se reza en la mayoría de nuestras liturgias; no solo en la misa y el rosario, sino desde los bautizos hasta los funerales, siempre nos esforzamos por compartir estas palabras cuando oramos juntos. Por lo tanto, me sorprendió cuando alguien me señaló recientemente algo que nunca antes había notado. (No me sorprende lo que se señaló, pero nunca lo había notado). La oración es plural en todo momento. No "Padre mío", sino "Padre nuestro". Quiero decir, siempre quise mi pan de cada día, pero nunca me di cuenta de que también estaba pidiendo que otros obtuvieran su pan de cada día. Y, por supuesto, quería que mis ofensas fueran perdonadas, pero ¿las ofensas de los demás? (¡Quiero decir que algunas de esas personas me estaban ofendiendo!).

Es importante recordar que Jesús está enseñando con esta oración. Lo tenemos porque los discípulos le pidieron que les enseñara a orar. Y al hacerlo, deja en claro que debemos orar los unos por los otros, no solo por nosotros mismos. Él nos está enseñando a orar por el bienestar y el perdón de los demás, incluso cuando oramos por lo nuestro.

Esta es también una oración muy ecuménica. No solo cualquier miembro de la iglesia protestante o no confesional estaría dispuesto a decir esta oración, sino que incluso los judíos o musulmanes no encontrarían nada objetable en estas palabras. Qué perfecto es que la oración que Jesús nos ha enseñado pueda ser compartida por todos, dicha por todos para el beneficio de todos y pueda ayudar a unirnos a todos.

No es de extrañar que la usemos tan a menudo.

Bendiciones y paz, Diácono Steve
