WHAT IS DISCERNMENT?

LEARN THE BASICS

Continuation of the last week...

Vocational discernment precedes the choice of giving a definitive direction to your life – the fundamental way that you will follow Christ. As with all important decisions, it is essential in vocational discernment to have good information. There are three things to know:

1. You are called to holiness
2. The vocations of priesthood, consecrated life, and marriage are three ways of being holy
3. Celibacy is a foretaste of heaven that Jesus wants to give some of His friends already on earth

3. Celibacy is a foretaste of heaven that Jesus wants to give some of His friends already on earth

When understood as the absence of a spouse and children, considering celibacy may leave you uninterested and perhaps even repulsed. But celibacy isn't the absence of something. Think if we were to define marriage in that way – marriage would mean losing all of the women in the world, except one. On the day of her wedding, as the bride walks down the aisle, no one is thinking to themselves, "Well how sad, she is about to lose all of the men in the world, except him."

Marriage isn't the absence of something; it's the presence of someone – the presence of a spouse. So, too, for celibacy. Celibacy isn't the absence of something; it's the presence of Someone – the presence of the Lord, our God. Given wholly to the Lord, the celibate person experiences a foretaste of heaven already on earth.

Heaven is, as the book of Revelation describes, the wedding feast of the Lamb. Jesus, the Bridegroom, gives Himself entirely to his Bride, the Church. It is for this reason that Jesus says in Luke 20:35, "those who are deemed worthy to attain to the coming age and to the resurrection of the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage." Heaven is not the absence of something, it's the presence of Someone, the presence of the Lord our God in a covenant of perfect communion that fully satisfies all our desires.

Jesus desires to give some of His friends this joy already now on earth. He says in Matthew 19:12, "Some are incapable of marriage because they were born so; some, because they were made so by others; some, because they have renounced marriage for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Whoever can accept this ought to accept it."

Because of these passages, as well as others in the Scriptures, the Church has described celibacy as a higher calling than marriage. Of course, this teaching does not mean that all celibate people are holier than all married people; it does mean that the celibate life is more like how we will live in Heaven. And for that reason, rather than treating marriage as the default vocation and only considering priesthood or religious life if there is some extraordinary sign, we ought to discern the celibate vocations first. Upon discerning that one is not called to priesthood or consecrated life, one can move with peace and joy towards marriage.

¿QUE ES DISCERNIMIENTO?

...Continuación de la semana pasada...

APRENDE LO BÁSICO

El discernimiento vocacional precede a la elección de dar una dirección definitiva a tu vida, el camino fundamental en el que seguirás a Cristo. Como ocurre con todas las decisiones importantes, en el discernimiento vocacional es fundamental contar con buena información. Hay tres cosas que debes saber:

1. Estás llamado a la santidad
2. Las vocaciones al sacerdocio, a la vida consagrada y al matrimonio son tres modos de ser santos
3. El celibato es un anticipo del cielo que Jesús quiere dar a algunos de sus amigos que ya están en la tierra

3. El celibato es un anticipo del cielo que Jesús quiere dar a algunos de sus amigos que ya están en la tierra

Cuando se entiende como la ausencia de cónyuge e hijos, considerar el celibato puede dejarlo desinteresado y tal vez incluso rechazado. Pero el celibato no es la ausencia de algo. Piense si tuviéramos que definir el matrimonio de esa manera: el matrimonio significaría perder a todas las mujeres del mundo, excepto una. El día de su boda, mientras la novia camina hacia el altar, nadie piensa: "Bueno, qué triste, está a punto de perder a todos los hombres del mundo, excepto a él".

El matrimonio no es la ausencia de algo; es la presencia de alguien – la presencia de un cónyuge. Lo mismo ocurre con el celibato. El celibato no es la ausencia de algo; es la presencia de Alguien – la presencia del Señor, nuestro Dios. Entregado totalmente al Señor, el célibe experimenta un anticipo del cielo ya en la tierra.

El cielo es, como lo describe el libro del Apocalipsis, la fiesta de bodas del Cordero. Jesús, el Esposo, se entrega enteramente a su Esposa, la Iglesia. Es por esta razón que Jesús dice en Lucas 20:35, "aquellos que son considerados dignos de llegar a la edad venidera y a la resurrección de los muertos, no se casan ni se dan en matrimonio". El cielo no es la ausencia de algo, es la presencia de Alguien, la presencia del Señor nuestro Dios en una alianza de perfecta comunión que satisface plenamente todos nuestros deseos.

Jesús desea dar esta alegría a algunos de sus amigos que ya están en la tierra. Él dice en Mateo 19:12: "Algunos son incapaces de casarse porque nacieron así; algunos, porque fueron hechos así por otros; algunos, porque han renunciado al matrimonio por causa del reino de los cielos. Quien pueda aceptar esto, debería aceptarlo".

Debido a estos pasajes, así como a otros de las Escrituras, la Iglesia ha descrito el celibato como un llamado superior al matrimonio. Por supuesto, esta enseñanza no significa que todas las personas célibes sean más santas que todas las personas casadas; sí significa que la vida célibe se parece más a cómo viviremos en el cielo. Y por esa razón, en lugar de tratar el matrimonio como la vocación por defecto y considerar sólo el sacerdocio o la vida religiosa si hay algún signo extraordinario, debemos discernir primero las vocaciones célibes. Al discernir que no se está llamado al sacerdocio ni a la vida consagrada, se puede avanzar con paz y alegría hacia el matrimonio.

El próximo punto, estará en el próximo boletín...

DEACON'S CORNER

St. Alonzo Rodriguez, 1532-1617

St. Alonzo, who worked as a cloth merchant in Spain, was married at age 26 and had three children. Within a few years his business had failed, his wife and children had died, and he turned to prayer and penance looking for answers. With no family remaining he felt called to religious life and asked to join the recently established Society of Jesus.

However, due to his lack of education the Jesuit Fathers said he was unfit to be a member. His prayer and persistence were eventually answered when he was admitted as a lay brother by a provincial of the society.

St Alonzo was sent to a college on the island of Majorca, to work as a porter and door keeper. He received guests to the college, carried their luggage, ran errands, and distributed alms to the poor. While others in the Society of Jesus traveled the world, evangelizing whole nations, and worked to reform the Church throughout Europe, Alonzo carried bags and ran errands.

But students began to seek him out as they realized the doorkeeper was a man of unusual wisdom and faith. His superiors also noticed and asked him to begin a private record of his life and thoughts. When he died in 1617 they examined the trove of his writings he had left behind. What they found was the life of a saint and mystic. A life of contemplation like St. Ignatius or St. Teresa of Avila. He was declared a saint in 1887 and is buried on the same island of Majorca where he answered the door and carried bags for 50 years.

On November 1st we celebrated the Solemnity of All Saints and it's always a good idea to reflect on the lives of the saints as we can be both guided and inspired by the example they provide.

Blessings and peace, Deacon Steve

RINCÓN DEL DIÁCONO

San Alonso Rodríguez, 1532-1617

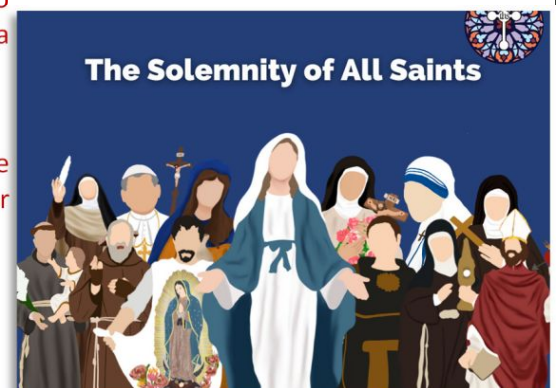

San Alonso, que trabajaba como comerciante de telas en España, se casó a los 26 años y tuvo tres hijos. A los pocos años su negocio fracasó, su esposa e hijos murieron, y recurrió a la oración y la penitencia en busca de respuestas. Al no quedarle familia, se sintió llamado a la vida religiosa y pidió unirse a la recién creada Sociedad de Jesús. Sin embargo, debido a su falta de educación, los padres jesuitas dijeron que no era apto para ser miembro. Su oración y perseverancia finalmente fueron respondidas cuando un provincial de la sociedad lo admitió como hermano laico.

San Alonso fue enviado a un colegio en la isla de Mallorca, para trabajar como portero. Recibía invitados en la universidad, llevaba su equipaje, hacía recados y distribuía limosnas a los pobres. Mientras otros miembros de la Sociedad de Jesús viajaban por el mundo evangelizando naciones enteras y trabajaban para reformar la Iglesia en toda Europa, Alonso llevaba bolsos y hacía recados.

Pero los estudiantes comenzaron a buscarlo cuando se dieron cuenta de que el portero era un hombre de sabiduría y fe inusuales. Sus superiores también se dieron cuenta y le pidieron que iniciara un registro privado de su vida y pensamientos. Cuando murió en 1617, examinaron el tesoro de sus escritos que había dejado. Lo que encontraron fue la vida de un santo y místico. Una vida de contemplación como San Ignacio o Santa Teresa de Ávila. Fue declarado santo en 1887 y está enterrado en la misma isla de Mallorca donde atendió la puerta y cargó bolsas durante 50 años.

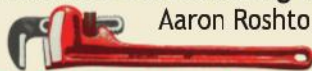

El 1 de noviembre celebramos la Solemnidad de Todos los Santos y siempre es una buena idea reflexionar sobre la vida de los santos, ya que podemos ser guiados e inspirados por el ejemplo que brindan.

Bendiciones y paz, Diácono Steve.
