NOW IS A GOOD TIME to begin estate planning

BY DAN WIERZBOWSKI | GUEST COLUMNIST

UNDERSTANDABLY, NATIONAL ESTATE PLANNING AWARENESS WEEK (NEPAW) MAY NOT BE AS EXCITING AS NATIONAL PIEROGI DAY (OCT. 8). I MAY BE A LITTLE CONFLICTED GIVEN MY FAMILY'S HERITAGE, BUT IF THE NEPAW HOLIDAY SURPRISED YOU BECAUSE YOU WERE PREPARING PIEROGI FOR YOUR NEXT GET TOGETHER — NO WORRIES. WE'RE HERE TO HELP!

This year NEPAW is Oct. 16-22. NEPAW was launched in 2008 to help us understand what estate planning is and why it is an important part of an overall financial plan.

Estate planning is the process in which a person decides on a plan to create a will, trust and/or any other legal document to determine who will receive their assets and property after their death. NEPAW is a great time to check this important task off your to-do list. Start with a will, which is the most common and flexible type of estate-planning document because the terms can be changed throughout your lifetime. A will is a legal document that governs the distribution of your assets after you die. If you don't have a will, state laws determine guardianship and how your assets are distributed and that may not match your wishes.

According to Caring.com's 2023 Estate Planning and Wills Survey, although about 6 in 10 Americans have a retirement account, only 34% have an estate plan. However, more Americans are starting to realize the importance of estate planning. The 2023 survey found that the number of people with an estate plan has increased 6% since 2020; the rate of young Americans with an estate plan has increased from 16% in 2020 to 26% in 2023; and 64% of Americans think it's very or somewhat important to have an estate plan.

DAN WIERZBOWSKI

is the associate director of planned giving for the Diocese of Austin. He is a parishioner of St. Albert the Great Parish in Austin.

More Americans are realizing the need to plan for the future. (Photo by Ashley Valle)

A recent article published by the Stelter Company referenced three false notions about creating a will:

WILLS ARE JUST FOR THE WEALTHY. As noted above, wills are important, and everyone should have one.

I DON'T KNOW WHERE TO START. A free will Personal Estate Planning Kit can help you get started. Visit austindiocese.mypannedgift.org and click on "Download my Kit."

CREATING A WILL IS EXPENSIVE. Join fellow Diocese of Austin supporters at freewill.com/austindiocese.com, a safe, secure and free online will planning tool.

Do you have children? A car that's paid for? Bank accounts? You need to create a will as part of your estate plan! Use your will to leave assets to your favorite charity like the Diocese of Austin or your favorite ministry. Send an email to dan-wierzowski@austindiocese.org for more information. †

Forty eight guests attended our annual "Age of Perfection" luncheon. We celebrated Mass and followed with a meal featuring the Polish culture. Friends caught up with good times and everyone enjoyed fellowship. A few even enjoyed a Polish Waltz.

A heartfelt thank you to all that attended, this event is one of our (staff) favorite events of the year.

¿Sabías Que?

Cuarenta y ocho invitados asistieron a nuestro almuerzo anual "Edad de la Perfección". Celebramos misa y continuamos con una comida presentando la cultura polaca. Los amigos se pusieron al día con buenos momentos y todos disfrutaron del compañerismo. Algunos incluso disfrutaron un vals polaco.

DEACON'S CORNER

Teach your children well

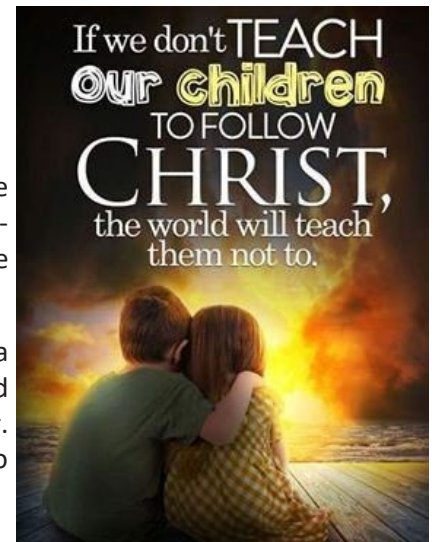

There is a young woman who I have known many years. I brought her mother through the RCIA program. I once gave her a driving lesson. I have been a close friend of the family. How disappointing it is now to see her in college, marching in support of Hamas, accusing Israel of genocide and siding with people who chop off the heads of babies.

This is a child who attended a Catholic parochial school in her parish, graduated from a Catholic high school and is now attending a Catholic university. Her parents are good and faithful people who love God, attend mass each Sunday and love their daughter. And yet, despite all their sacrifices and good intentions, they have a daughter that no longer goes to mass, no longer believes in what the church teaches and marches in support of people who chop off the heads of babies. What when wrong?

Certainly, we can hold bishops responsible for allowing Catholic education to go so far astray, after all, every school this young lady attended was normally under the authority of a bishop. We could blame teachers, administrators, accreditation boards, and even the people who teach the teachers. However, do not her parents bear the final responsibility for what their daughter was taught in school?

Parents receive their children from God and have the right and duty to educate them. When God asks you how you taught your children, I don't think he will be concerned that they got a great degree from a great university and had a great career and made a great deal of money. I think He will be far more concerned that you taught them not to celebrate people who chop off the heads of babies.

Blessings and peace, Deacon Steve

RINCÓN DEL DIÁCONO

Educa bien a tus hijos

Hay una joven que conozco desde hace muchos años. Traje a su madre a través del programa RICA. Una vez le dio una lección de manejo. He sido un amigo cercano de la familia. ¡Qué decepcionante es ahora verla a ella en la universidad, marchando en apoyo de Hamás, acusando a Israel de genocidio y poniéndose del lado de quienes cortan las cabezas de los bebés.

Esta es una niña que asistió a una escuela parroquial católica en su parroquia, se graduó de una escuela secundaria católica y ahora asiste a una universidad católica. Sus padres son personas buenas y fieles que aman a Dios, asisten a Misa todos los domingos y aman a su hija. Y, sin embargo, a pesar de todos sus sacrificios y buenas intenciones, tienen una hija que ya no va a misa, ya no cree en lo que enseña la iglesia y marcha en apoyo de personas que cortan las cabezas de los bebés. ¿Qué hicieron mal?

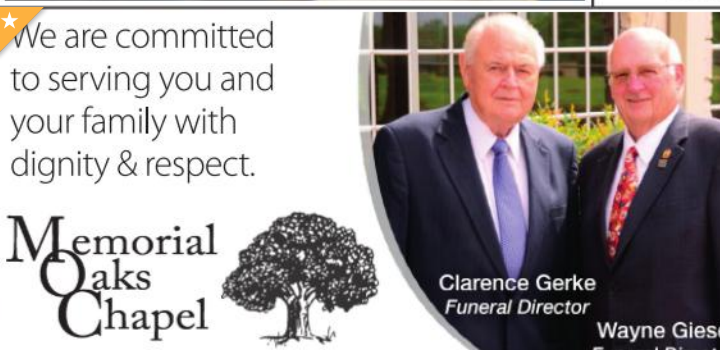

Ciertamente, podemos responsabilizar a los obispos por permitir que la educación católica se desvíe tanto; después de todo, cada escuela a la que asistía esta joven normalmente estaba bajo la autoridad de un obispo. Podríamos culpar a los profesores, administradores, juntas de acreditación e incluso las personas que enseñan a los profesores. Sin embargo, ¿No los padres tienen la responsabilidad final de lo que le enseñaron a su hija en la escuela?

Los padres reciben de Dios a sus hijos y tienen el derecho y el deber de educarlos. Cuando Dios te pregunte cómo educaste a tus hijos, no creo que le preocupe que hayan obtenido un gran título de una gran universidad, o una gran carrera y gané mucho dinero. Creo que estará mucho más preocupado de que les enseñaste a no celebrar a las personas que cortan la cabeza a los bebés.

Bendiciones y paz, Diácono Steve.
