A Time to Practice Joy

During this Easter season, I feel a special invitation to live in authentic joy. I often find myself trapped in the routine of worries and long faces, forgetting that Jesus has risen and calls me to experience a joy that flows from within. It is not a superficial joy, but a profound one that reflects a true hope in eternal life, showing the world that I trust in a living God.

A Word That Touches the Deepest Part of Me

As I meditate on the Gospel passage at the Sea of Tiberias, I realize how profoundly this text moves me. It is not easy to preach when a passage speaks so directly to my heart. I find myself like Peter, confronted by the gaze of Jesus, who so simply and profoundly asks me: "Do you love me?" This scene carries such emotional weight that it compels me to stop, reflect, and desire to respond to the Lord from the truth of my life.

The Voice of Jesus in My Daily Life

Reading how the disciples recognize Jesus yet fear to ask Him who He is, I see myself reflected in them. There are moments in my life when I know what God is asking of me, yet I resist clearly asking Him, out of fear of the responsibility it entails. Jesus, however, has no such fear: He asks me directly, "Do you love me?"—not for His own sake, but so that I might know with certainty the truth of my own heart and commitment.

Returning to My First Love

Jesus reminds me, as He reminded Peter, of my first encounter with Him, when He invited me to become a fisher of men. The scene at the Sea of Tiberias, with the miraculous catch of fish, urges me to recognize how often I have worked according to my own will, with little fruit. Jesus calls me to cast my nets to the right side—to act according to His will. He invites me to reclaim the dignity of my vocation and to trust in His unchanging love.

An Invitation to Authenticity

Finally, I understand that the Lord calls me to an authentic relationship with Him, free from appearances. Just as in real life the truth is revealed amidst trials, Jesus invites me to live in transparency, fidelity, and sincere friendship with Him. He prepares a banquet for me and daily repeats His question: "Do you love me?" Today, I wish to respond to Him not only with words, but with concrete actions that reflect that I have truly chosen to love and follow Him.

Jr. Everardo Cázares

Jesús me Invita a la Alegría y la Confianza

Pedro, ¿me amas?

Un Tiempo para Practicar la Alegría

En este tiempo de Pascua, siento una invitación especial a vivir la alegría auténtica. A menudo, me descubro atrapado en la rutina de las preocupaciones y los rostros largos, olvidando que Jesús ha resucitado y me llama a vivir con un gozo que brota desde el interior. No se trata de una alegría superficial, sino de aquella que refleja una esperanza verdadera en la vida eterna, mostrándole al mundo que tengo un Dios vivo en quien confío plenamente.

Una Palabra que Toca lo Más Profundo

Al meditar en el Evangelio del lago de Tiberíades, reconozco cuánto me conmueve este pasaje. No es fácil predicar cuando un texto evangélico me habla tan directamente al corazón. Me siento como Pedro, confrontado por la mirada de Jesús, que me pregunta de manera tan sencilla y profunda: "¿Me amas?". Esta escena tiene una fuerza emocional que me hace detenerme, reflexionar y desear responderle al Señor desde la verdad de mi vida.

La Voz de Jesús en mi Cotidianidad

Al leer cómo los discípulos reconocen a Jesús pero temen preguntarle quién es, me descubro reflejado en ellos. Hay momentos en mi vida en que sé lo que Dios me pide, pero me resisto a preguntarlo con claridad por temor a enfrentar la responsabilidad que implica. Jesús, en cambio, no duda: Él me pregunta directamente "¿Me amas?" no para saberlo Él, sino para que yo mismo me dé cuenta de la verdad de mi corazón y de mi compromiso real con Él.

Volver al Primer Amor

Jesús me recuerda, como a Pedro, mi primer encuentro con Él, cuando me invitó a ser pescador de hombres. La escena del lago de Tiberíades, con la pesca milagrosa, me impulsa a reconocer que muchas veces he trabajado a mi manera, sin resultados. Jesús me llama a lanzar las redes "a la derecha", a hacer las cosas según Su voluntad. Me invita a recuperar la dignidad perdida, a ceñirme nuevamente la túnica de mi vocación y a confiar en su amor inmutable.

Una Invitación a la Autenticidad

Finalmente, comprendo que el Señor me llama a una relación auténtica con Él, libre de apariencias. Así como en la vida real se revela la verdad en medio de las pruebas, Jesús también me invita a vivir en transparencia, en fidelidad, y en una amistad sincera con Él. Él prepara un banquete para mí, y cada día me repite su pregunta: "¿Me amas?". Hoy quiero responderle no sólo con palabras, sino con obras concretas que reflejen que, de verdad, he elegido amarlo y seguirlo.

DEACON'S CORNER

In the Gospel Jesus asks Peter three times do you love me? Why three times? Perhaps Jesus wants to remind and forgive Peter for denying Jesus three times on Holy Thursday.

Peter do you love me? Jesus uses the Greek word agape which in some cases means sacrificial love. Peter says yes Lord I love you. But Peter uses the Greek word philio which has the sense of friendship or brotherly love. That's where we get the name Philadelphia, the city of brotherly love. Jesus asks Peter again do you love me (agape). Again, Peter says yes I love you as a brother and friend (philo). Finally, the third time Jesus does not use the word agape but rather the word philo. Perhaps Jesus decides to accept Peter's answer even if Peter does not use the word agape. But there is more to come. After the descent of the Holy Spirit on all the apostles at Pentecost Peter courageously proclaims Jesus Christ. All of the apostles except John are martyred. The Holy Spirit has given them sacrificial agape love! Jesus asks us do you love me?" Do we love Him? How do we love Him? We have received the Holy Spirit in the sacraments. Are we courageous enough to witness to Jesus as the apostles did even if we are ridiculed or opposed for believing in Jesus and the Gospel; or do we remain silent, embarrassed or fearful in the face of opposition or persecution? Can we boldly and fearlessly confess our belief in Christ and His power to save as the apostles did?

Come Holy Spirit and fill us with Your love!

Deacon John

RINCON DEL DIACONO

En el Evangelio, Jesús le pregunta a Pedro tres veces: "¿Me amas?". ¿Por qué tres veces? Quizás Jesús quiere recordarle y perdonarle por haberlo negado tres veces el Jueves Santo.

Pedro, ¿me amas? Jesús usa la palabra griega ágape, que en algunos casos significa amor sacrificial. Pedro dice: "Sí, Señor, te amo". Pero Pedro usa la palabra griega philio, que tiene el sentido de amistad o amor fraternal. De ahí viene el nombre Filadelfia, la ciudad del amor fraternal. Jesús le pregunta a Pedro de nuevo: "¿Me amas?" (ágape). De nuevo, Pedro dice: "Sí, te amo como hermano y amigo" (philo). Finalmente, la tercera vez, Jesús no usa la palabra ágape, sino philo. Quizás Jesús decide aceptar la respuesta de Pedro, incluso si Pedro no usa la palabra ágape. Pero aún hay más. Después del descenso del Espíritu Santo sobre todos los apóstoles en Pentecostés, Pedro proclama valientemente a Jesucristo. Todos los apóstoles, excepto Juan, son martirizados. ¡El Espíritu Santo les ha dado un amor ágape sacrificial! Jesús nos pregunta: "¿Me amas?". ¿Lo amamos? ¿Cómo lo amamos? Hemos recibido el Espíritu Santo en los sacramentos. ¿Somos lo suficientemente valientes para dar testimonio de Jesús como lo hicieron los apóstoles, incluso si nos ridiculizan o nos oponen por creer en Jesús y el Evangelio? ¿O permanecemos callados, avergonzados o temerosos ante la oposición o la persecución? ¿Podemos confesar con valentía nuestra creencia en Cristo y su poder para salvar, como lo hicieron los apóstoles?

¡Ven, Espíritu Santo, y llénanos de tu amor!
