My Confirmation Testimony

By Noah Herr

My name is Noah Herr. I am a sophomore in high school, a brother to three siblings, and I was recently confirmed into the Catholic Church! I enjoy many sports—including baseball, football, basketball, and hockey—as well as fishing and hunting. I was born and raised in Texas and moved to Brenham in February of 2022. Since moving here, I have absolutely loved our town and especially our community at St. Mary’s. It has been such a blessing to be part of this wonderful parish, particularly now that I am fully confirmed. Above all, I love how this parish has helped me grow in my faith. My confirmation teacher, Mr. Joseph Herr (who also happens to be my dad), has helped me immensely, and I would like to thank him and all the other amazing teachers who helped us reach this next chapter in our faith journey. I would also like to thank my amazing sponsor, Mr. Carsrud. Thank you for being there for me during this next big step, for setting such a great example of what it means to live out the faith, and for showing me how to follow the Lord with a joyful heart.

My faith journey has not always been easy, nor will it ever be, but it is—and always will be—worth it. For a long time, I was simply "going through the motions." I went to Mass because I was told to, and while the faith made sense in my head, it hadn't yet connected with my heart. That changed a year ago when I had the opportunity to attend a Catholic summer camp. The turning point began on a Tuesday night during a campfire session with the guys in my cabin. We were just sitting there talking, but the conversation became incredibly real. Hearing other guys my age share their own struggles and their desire for God really impacted me; it made me realize I wasn't alone in my journey. That experience opened my heart for the next day, when we had Adoration. As soon as I walked in, I knew something was different. Instead of feeling bored or sitting in silence waiting for the minutes to tick down, I felt a genuine change in my heart. As I knelt to pray, everything I knew in my head finally connected to my heart. I went to confession, sang along to praise and worship music, and prayed with intention. I finally understood what it meant to simply sit in the peace and joy of our Lord and Savior. When I got back to the cabin that night, we all talked about our experiences, and I could feel the pure joy of the Lord moving through our group. On the last night of the week, we sat in rocking chairs talking about our time together. Every one of us opened up about our struggles and how much the experience had impacted us. Our counselors gave us advice, we prayed over each other, and we set goals for when we returned to our regular lives. That week at camp truly changed my faith life forever. While it hasn't always been easy since coming home—in fact, at times it has been really hard—I now know what to do when things get tough: I turn to the Lord. I am still a work in progress, and I always will be, but by the grace of God, I am slowly starting to understand what it means to truly live for Him. Even the greatest saints experienced "dry spells," and I've learned that as long as you keep trying your best, the Lord will take what you have and make it amazing. This is why I chose St. Philip Neri as my confirmation saint. He lived with the joy of the Lord and was happy simply to be alive. That is exactly what I want to imitate. I will never be perfect, but I know that when I fall, the Lord will pick me up. Thank you to Father Raphael and Father Edwin for leading our parish, and to the Sisters for heading our religious education. I pray that we continue to grow together as a community and strive for greatness. I will be praying for you all. God bless!

DEACON'S CORNER

In today's first reading we see seven men selected by the apostles to provide food for Hellenist (Greek- Speaking) widows. Because the apostles did not speak Greek these widows were being left out in the distribution of food.

The apostles prayed and laid hands on these men for their ministry of serving at table for the Hellenist widows. We consider these men the first deacons.

However, very soon the ministry of these seven men grew beyond these administrative and charitable duties. They begin preaching, performing miracles, exorcisms, and baptisms. Because of his faith and preaching a crowd stoned the deacon Stephen to death with the concurrence of Saul who today we know as St. Paul. St. Stephen was the first Christian martyr. Other deacons have been martyred throughout history.

Today there are thousands of deacons worldwide; all ordained by a bishop through the laying on of the bishop's hands. Permanent Deacons do not become priests. They are ordained to the ministry of Liturgy, Word and Charity. The Greek word for deacon is diakonia which means minister. It has the sense of a servant. Deacons seek to image Christ the servant. Permanent Deacons teach, preach, perform weddings, conduct funerals, and perform other liturgical functions and work in many charitable ministries such as in prisons, hospitals and nursing homes. Some deacons hold administrative roles in the Church.

Final point: Before ordination to the diaconate the bishop commissions a prospective deacon to be a church lector. Handing the prospective deacon a book of the Gospels or a bible the bishop says: Receive the Gospel of Christ whose herald you have become. Believe what you read. Teach what you believe. Practice what you preach.

Please pray for your deacons that it may be so. Amen!

Deacon John

RINCON DEL DIACONO

En la primera lectura de hoy vemos a siete hombres elegidos por los apóstoles para proveer alimento a las viudas helenistas (de habla griega). Como los apóstoles no hablaban griego, estas viudas quedaban excluidas de la distribución de alimentos.

Los apóstoles oraron e impusieron las manos sobre estos hombres para que cumplieran su ministerio de servir en la mesa a las viudas helenistas. Consideramos a estos hombres los primeros diáconos.

Sin embargo, muy pronto el ministerio de estos siete hombres se extendió más allá de estas tareas administrativas y caritativas. Comenzaron a predicar, realizar milagros, exorcismos y bautismos. Debido a su fe y predicación, una multitud apedreó al diácono Esteban hasta la muerte, con la complicidad de Saulo, a quien hoy conocemos como San Pablo. San Esteban fue el primer mártir cristiano. Otros diáconos han sido martirizados a lo largo de la historia.

Hoy en día existen miles de diáconos en todo el mundo; todos ordenados por un obispo mediante la imposición de manos. Los diáconos permanentes no se ordenan sacerdotes. Son ordenados al ministerio de la Liturgia, la Palabra y la Caridad. La palabra griega para diácono es diakonia, que significa ministro. Tiene el sentido de servidor. Los diáconos buscan reflejar a Cristo, el siervo. Los diáconos permanentes enseñan, predicán, celebran bodas, offician funerales y realizan otras funciones litúrgicas, además de trabajar en numerosos ministerios caritativos, como en prisiones, hospitales y residencias de ancianos. Algunos diáconos desempeñan funciones administrativas en la Iglesia.

Punto final: Antes de la ordenación al diaconado, el obispo designa al futuro diácono como lector de la iglesia. Entregándole un libro de los Evangelios o una Biblia, el obispo le dice: «Recibe el Evangelio de Cristo, de quien te has convertido en heraldo. Cree lo que lees. Enseña lo que crees. Practica lo que predicás». Por favor, oren por sus diáconos para que así sea. Amén. Diácono Juan
