WE ARE looking for VOLUNTEERS!

Volunteers Needed for Facebook Livestreaming! 📹🙏
Our parish is looking for volunteers to help livestream our Holy Masses on Facebook so that we can continue sharing the celebration of the Eucharist with parishioners who are unable to attend in person.
We need help with the following Masses:
⛪ 10:30 AM – English Mass
⛪ 12:30 PM – Spanish Mass
If you are willing to share your time and talents to serve our parish community in this way, we would love to hear from you! No prior experience is necessary, just a willing heart and a desire to serve.
If you are interested in volunteering, please contact the parish office.

📣 ¡Necesitamos Voluntarios para las Transmisiones en Vivo por Facebook! 📹🙏
Nuestra parroquia está buscando voluntarios que nos ayuden a transmitir en vivo nuestras Santas Misas por Facebook, para que podamos seguir compartiendo la celebración de la Eucaristía con nuestros feligreses que no pueden asistir en persona.
Necesitamos ayuda para las siguientes Misas:
⛪ 10:30 a. m. – Misa en inglés
⛪ 12:30 p. m. – Misa en español
Si estás dispuesto(a) a compartir tu tiempo y tus talentos para servir a nuestra comunidad parroquial de esta manera, ¡nos encantaría contar contigo! No se necesita experiencia previa, solo un corazón dispuesto y el deseo de servir.
Si estás interesado(a) en ser voluntario(a), por favor comunícate con la oficina parroquial.

DEACON'S CORNER

Bury the dead, part 4

Sometimes I think we are the first generation that believe we will live forever. That every death is preventable. If we wear our seat belts, eat our bran muffins, exercise, and take all of our supplements, we will never die. Never was this demonstrated more clearly than during our recent experience with the Covid-19 epidemic. The draconian policies implemented during that period did little good and most of them did great harm. Many people died alone, as family members were not allowed into nursing homes or hospitals to visit them.

I had family members who wouldn't attend the birthday parties of their grandchildren because they didn't think it would be safe. I sat in meetings at church where it was suggested that people gathering out on the sidewalk was a problem and we should somehow put a stop to it. (The pastor prudently decided that his authority didn't extend to the sidewalk and he had no intention of preventing people from gathering after mass.) All of this should remind us that life needs to include living. Visiting with friends and family members, attending birthday parties, sharing the joys and suffering we experience with others is part of living. In our zeal to preserve our lives we decided to stop living.

I remarked to a friend of mine, who is also a deacon, that everything we were doing with ropes, disinfectant and distancing was depressing and he said, "Well, we want people to feel safe.". I replied "I don't want them to feel safe! I preach homilies on how short life is. How people should focus on preparing for the next life. The last thing I want is for them to feel safe." He laughed and said, "Well, then we want them to feel safe until we make them feel unsafe". So that is my message to you today. Feel unsafe. Know how short this life is and be not afraid. God has a better one for you, if you want it.

Blessings and peace, Deacon Steve

RINCON DEL DIACONO

Enterrar a los muertos, parte 4

A veces pienso que somos la primera generación que cree que viviremos para siempre; que toda muerte se puede evitar. Si nos abrochamos el cinturón de seguridad, comemos panecillos de salvado, hacemos ejercicio y tomamos todos nuestros suplementos, nunca moriremos. Esto quedó más que claro durante nuestra reciente experiencia con la epidemia de Covid-19. Las medidas draconianas implementadas en aquel periodo sirvieron de poco, y la mayoría de ellas causaron un gran daño. Muchas personas murieron solas, ya que no se permitió a sus familiares entrar en residencias de ancianos u hospitales para visitarlas.

Tuve familiares que no quisieron asistir a las fiestas de cumpleaños de sus nietos porque no lo consideraban seguro. Recuerdo haber estado en reuniones en la iglesia donde se sugirió que el hecho de que la gente se reuniera en la acera era un problema y que debíamos, de alguna manera, ponerle fin. (El pastor decidió, con prudencia, que su autoridad no llegaba hasta la acera y que no tenía intención alguna de impedir que la gente se reuniera después de la misa). Todo esto debería recordarnos que, para vivir, es necesario vivir de verdad. Pasar tiempo con amigos y familiares, asistir a fiestas de cumpleaños, compartir con los demás las alegrías y los sufrimientos que experimentamos... todo eso forma parte de la vida. En nuestro afán por preservar la vida, decidimos dejar de vivir.

Le comenté a un amigo mío, que también es diácono, que todo lo que estábamos haciendo —con cuerdas, desinfectante y distanciamiento— resultaba deprimente. Él respondió: «Bueno, queremos que la gente se sienta segura». Le repliqué: «¡No quiero que se sientan seguros! En mis homilías predico sobre lo breve que es la vida y sobre cómo las personas deberían centrarse en prepararse para la vida venidera. Lo último que deseo es que se sientan seguros». Él se rió y dijo: «Bueno, entonces queremos que se sientan seguros... hasta que logremos que se sientan inseguros». Así que ese es mi mensaje para ustedes hoy: siéntanse inseguros. Sean conscientes de lo breve que es esta vida y no tengan miedo. Dios tiene una vida mejor preparada para ustedes, si es que la desean..

Bendiciones y paz, Diácono Steve
